Vermont Commons School's Mission:

SCHOLARSHIP.
COMMUNITY.
GLOBAL RESPONSIBILITY.

ACADEMIC PHILOSOPHY

Vermont Commons School presents a challenging college preparatory curriculum for students in grades 6-12. The academic program offers courses and presents material in ever-increasing depth and complexity throughout a student's career. Classes at Vermont Commons are writing-intensive, hands-on, and focus on critical thinking skills across the curriculum. Students move from acquiring skills and understanding systems to analyzing and communicating solutions. The curriculum includes honors and advanced coursework, affording students the opportunity to experience the expectations of college-level courses while still having a strong mentoring relationship with their faculty as they transition to higher education.

NOTES ON COURSES AND PROGRAMS:

CONTRACT HONORS

Vermont Commons School offers Contract Honors, an exciting alternative to Advanced Placement courses. The Contract Honors program provides students with greater challenge, complexity, and coursework in grades 10-12. Students “contract” for additional studies and earn an Honors designation for that course on their transcript. Participating teachers offer students who meet each department's prerequisites the option to participate in Contract Honors; however, this option may not be offered in all courses. In order to take more than two Contract Honors courses, students must gain approval from the Department Chairs Committee. Honors grades are not weighted when computing a student's GPA. All honors work is graded and included in calculated course grades.

SCIENCE SEQUENCE

Vermont Commons School Biology, Chemistry, and Physics courses are divided into two semesters that occur over multiple years. This curriculum allows students to see how each of the science disciplines intersects with the others.

ELECTIVES

Students in high school are able to select 3-4 semester-long elective classes each year. These courses allow students to explore a topic outside of the traditional disciplines and dig deeply into new content with multi-age peers. Examples include: Rock Band, Environmental Science, and African Studies.

ENCOUNTER WEEK PROGRAM

Each student participates in three multi-age Encounter Weeks per year, one in late September, one in early February, and one in late May. Encounter Weeks, intensive experiential education experiences, allow students to learn new skills in a variety of settings, from the summit of Mount Mansfield to the streets of Rome to Mayan villages in Belize. During these weeks students explore the wilderness, the arts, and community-based projects. Encounter Weeks give students and faculty alike a new platform for connection, leadership, and understanding. Students engage in these challenging but rewarding journeys as fully as they do any other aspect of school.

SENIOR PROJECTS

At the end of the spring semester, each Vermont Commons School senior is provided the opportunity to design and implement their own senior project. These internship-style projects are five weeks long and replace regular classes. The students are able to pursue a career or skill interest and gain a sense of the professional setting outside of the classroom. This program allows seniors to creatively tie together their personal interests and academic experiences as they make the transition from high school to higher education. Students who choose to complete the senior project work with a community mentor for 30-35 hours/week, research an issue in their field of study, and present their experience to the school community.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

Each year, students are expected to successfully complete a full complement of courses. The available disciplines include Science, Mathematics, English, World Language, Social Studies, Visual Arts, Physical Education and Electives. Students must meet both the Vermont State requirements and the additional requirements as prescribed by the school. Vermont Commons offers both Spanish and Mandarin Chinese.

Vermont Department of Education requirements for graduation including:

- 4 years of English
- 3 years of Science
